

Edwin Hall—
East Village Youth Program
Summer 2007

Mr. Jones' Bad Day

Dear Friend,

I am sorry that you had a bad day. I am sorry that when you woke up the animal poop was there and when you went to the bathroom the cat poop was in your brush. A monkey was in the sink and he peed in a cup. It was funny but I'm sorry that happened. When you were walking your dog he fell in a hole but the good thing is you got him out. You were waiting for the bus, but the bus did not come. And you were walking to work and you walked to a fireplace, and a man beat you up at work and a woman did not have money and you told her to go, and she hit you with her bag. And when you had no money for lunch, and you got fired from work and went, you were walking for work, your mother hit you in the face. The real thing is I did it. I put the animal poop in the home and I put poop on your brush. I made a hole and the dog got out. My sister beat you up a man close. They hit the bus driver. I made fire when you got on fire, my aunt hit you. I took your money. I got you fired and you hit me, so I told. I am sorry.

Love,

Friend

And when he was reading it a car came. The End.